Use and Care

Tips for use:

- Use as a grill and enjoy cooking with charcoal wood briquettes for a natural tasting outdoor barbeque flavor
- At night the grill transforms into a campfire with wood logs on the grill pan
- A winter gathering place for hot cider and sausages outside

Corten Steel – a.k.a. weathering steel, a special alloy that uses copper and nickel to create a weather-resistant surface. Can be left untreated and is maintenance free.

Stainless Steel – the grill rack, back bar, and stakes are made of heavy stainless steel. Clean with detergent and water as needed.
