Cross the Tree line...

Enhance your décor and your environment with the NEW Flatfire Tree-line silhouette, a nice addition to the Wittus Flatfire gas fireplace. It's effortless to bring a little fun into your home with this designer metal forest insert. Easy to install, this new cut-out tree adds natural character to the dancing flames of the already stylish modern fireplace. It even looks like a sculpture when the fire is not burning.

The direct vent gas, award winning Flatfire, which is about: 30"h x 42"w x 7"d with a viewing window of 15"h x 27"w, is available with a black or silver gray steel frame and accented by a distinctive inner frame of silver gray. It is the perfect addition to every home.

This simple metal tree application, which takes on a natural patina when burned for some time, enhances the environment in a creative way, and no leaf raking necessary. The Flatfire heats up to 20,000 BTU's or about 1,000 square feet.

Designed and manufactured in the USA with European style influence, the sleek clean lines of the Flatfire and its new metal forest insert create a contemporary flair to any setting. For those customers that would like to explore beyond the tree-line silhouette, custom designs are available upon request.
