Foculus Outdoor Grill

The Foculus outdoor wood burning grill is a work of art in both appearance and function. It is made in Italy by La Castellamonte, a manufacturer known for a tradition of ceramic making and quality products. Ancient clay working techniques are used to create beautiful, ecological products that are a welcome addition to every outdoor space. As a grill it is easy to use, as a garden sculpture it is spectacular.

Features

Low smoke - easy to light and use. Equipped with a durable ceramic fire bowl designed to protect the chef from high heat and glare of the brazier and an easy to access cook top just the right height for all cooks. Suitable for cooking a variety of foods: meat, fish and vegetables.

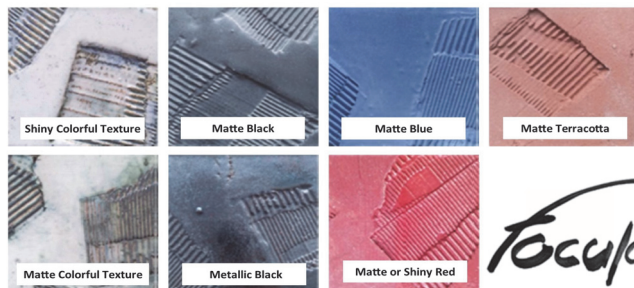

Materials

- 1200°C outdoor glazed stoneware, decorated and hand-printed in unique pieces
- Stainless steel washable grill top, cooking ring grate, and optional cover (shown at right)
- Metallic table in corten steel and chestnut wood top
- Steel handles
- Swiveling wheels.
